Title: Notes of fines

Language(s): Latin

Incipit: Radulfus Alisaundre and Iohannes Deverell buy from William Alisaundre and his wife, Edith, the third part of the manor of Thornton with two mesuages, 400 acres of land, 40 acres of meadow, and fourteen parts of the income in Magna Kingston and Parva Kingston, and the advowson of the churches in Thornton and in Stondland; the document was written in Dorset, on the octave of the Purification of the Virgin Mary (2 February for the feast, so its octave was on 9 February), and the final agreement was taken during the quindine of Easter.

Notes: Notes of fines, as an earlier stage in the matter of levying a final concord; on the dorse is a symbol used by the clerks of the Common Pleas.
